A technical question: what do I do if SD appears during the evaluation stage? Do I ignore it carrying on with the evaluation or do I start to dialogue?

Concussion resulting in lesion to occipital region. What holds are best?

I won't be able to be present on the 11th but I'm curious about your experience with CST and retained primitive reflexes. I saw a chiropractor who advertised working with specific CS adjustments to affect them and wondered what you knew about that. Thanks!

I was asked recently if CST can help with scar tissue. This lady recently had a hip replacement, and there's some residual pain and pulling in her inner thigh.

I wasn't sure how to answer her. Have other people had good success working on scar tissue?

I would like to ask what is the meaning of getting visuals during treatment. Could it be a form of communication from IP or direct release/blast from information stored in something like energy cyst in patient's body when it is released?

To me, it feels like the latter but I don't have a clue. I also wonder if other therapist got visuals as well.
